

Ron Kauffman welcomes all questions related to geriatric care – the caregiving to our aging boomers and seniors. As a geriatric care manager and expert on many issues related to providing care and creating care plans, Ron and Senior LifeStyles provide an excellent venue to get answers to many of the questions that face families and spouses of seniors with debilitating health and issues of Alzheimer's disease.

To get answers to your health and care-related question, send your question to Ron at askdron@yahoo.com. Every effort will be made to respond and post your question with his response in a timely fashion. Please be sure to include your first name with your email.
